Dear Mr. Hill:

Thank you for using the AlertDriver program with your traffic clients. We can now offer your new clients a 10% discount on the AlertDriver course fees when they use your special promotional code HILLM. Simply tell your clients to enter the code when prompted during the registration process at www.alertdriver.com. The 10% discount will be applied automatically and is active until December 1, 2008.

AlertDriver is also pleased to announce two new technological features. On August 22, 2008, AlertDriver on-line clients will be the first driver education customers in the U.S. to receive real time personalized feedback about their attitudes towards distracted and aggressive driving. Research shows that attitude and behavior changes are key to improved safety on the highway. We now have the advanced capability to give each user individualized feedback on their belief, attitude and behavior changes as a result of taking our course.

AlertDriver clients will also be exposed to our new on-line video slide show illustrating the latest research on driver inattention. The "2 second rule" show will be a part of everyone's curriculum. You can try the show for free at www.alertdriver.com.

Thank you for continuing to improve traffic safety in North Carolina. If you have any questions about our program, please call Stacey Brown at 919.408.0745.
